

Cornell University Summer College

Programs for High School Students

Scholarships

Cornell University Summer College is offering partial scholarships to qualified high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of financial need, academic achievement, and availability of funds, and include tuition, room, and board. We can only award aid to students who have been accepted to one of our programs.

Students will become part of an extraordinary academic community and will have the opportunity to learn about Cornell's many exceptional programs, including its prestigious and unique American Indian program, which is committed to supporting Native American students by facilitating their academic goals and helping them meet the challenges they will encounter at college.

Summer College offers talented high school students the opportunity to:

- attend three- and six-week programs between June 25 and August 9,
- experience the excitement of college life at a great Ivy League university,
- take fascinating college courses with Cornell's world-renowned faculty,
- get a head start on college by earning three to six college credits,
- explore careers and academic majors from architecture to veterinary medicine,
- enhance your college applications and participate in admissions workshops, and
- make friends from around the world and enjoy dances, concerts, and more.

If you're interested in attending Summer College and think you might be eligible for financial aid, see the financial aid section at www.summercollege.cornell.edu, under "Program Charges." If you still have questions, contact us at:
